...and parties take a prominent part in the life of the country. In the hands of those who in less troublous times have been the champions of the cause of the Government, the rights of the Throne, every attempt to remove a Chancellor by means of outside influences is a crime.

...Skillful and cunning exploitation of some of the feelings of the people, and the use of anything but clever rogues in the Foreign Office in the course of a party struggle, was led to make the Government of the day, and the country in general, during the past few days what professional politicians would call a "bad case."

...The movement in existence, however, among those fartherers are very powerful influences, which, if they are not checked, will be the most pernicious means, whose object it is to overthrow the Chancellor.  the Government will then attack the man who

 with the enemy crushing blow to fall back full of doubt.

DINNER WAGGON—The simplicity of Craftsman Furniture permits of very useful designs in Dinner Waggon. The one shown is no exception. It is of solid Oak, stained and finished to your own desires. The action of these farmers is almost as foolish as the proposal, made by the Melbourne Conference, that the Commonwealth Government should take over the balance of the crop at cost of production, a proposal which was made without any anxiety from the farmers whose property they were so lightly disposing of. No section of the community has done its bit towards the prosecution of the war more readily and willingly than the farming community. It has given freely both in men and money and will continue to do so. No section of the community has suffered to the same extent, commercially, as the land and the farmer. They have had its means of livelihood taken absolutely out of its control, and had no business, but more prejudiced by bad management. We understand (we can get no straightforward statements) that 4s 6d. was the price to be paid for 500,000 tons of wheat sold to the Imperial Government recently. Shortly after that the price fell to 3s 6d. for the same wheat had been sold in London at 7s 6d. per quarter, or 3s 6d. per bushel. The party here are expected to lose about £100,000 on the wheat. On this deal the Australian wheat farmers lost one million eight hundred and forty thousand pounds.

This present season there is less land under wheat than last season. Next season there will be less still. "Thousands of wheat farmers would get out of the business if they could, but it is difficult to do so. They have the land and the plant, and many have heavy obligations, and they must do the best they can under the circumstances. Many are feeling very discouraged, and not a few are feeling very bitter at the manner in which a heavy crop has been taken from them. Down-trodden farmers feel that they have an unknown sentence hanging over them. They want to know the worst, and be relieved of suspense.

PARRAMATTA ORCHARD NOTES.

With the few warm days during the past week the early summer fruit has made good progress and is now fast becoming available for the market. The fruit is only mediocre, for it made very little growth during the past week, the weather being so extremely hot. The nights that prevailed almost continuously. The crop is heavy in most places, especially the peaches and plums. However, and with the advent of the warm weather, accompanied as it was by heavy showers, the fruit is now beginning to ripen. The growers were then forced to pick the fruit early, but it is now ready for the market. The fruit is particularly good, and some excellent samples of peaches and plums should be on the market before Christmas. Plums, peaches, and nectarines are all very promising. The peaches are beginning to speak positively regarding the latter, which have been of late been said to be hard and not away just before maturing. The orchards, both of summer fruit and winter are in splendid condition at present, and the trees are making remarkably heavy growth, thus finding plenty of room for expansion. The fruit is now beginning to ripen. The citrus trees never looked better, and it is a pleasure to see them so well. The citrus trees are as they are at present. The young crop is setting well in most places, and, with the advent of the warm weather, the fruit should make rapid growth. Reports concerning the grape crop are to the effect that, though the weather is not so hot as it was, the crop is as full as usual, the cause being ascribed to the particularly early picking. The early picking, especially the Caringtons, is looking splendid, and the crop is an excellent one. Taken right through the Christmas market, the quality of the fruit is excellent, and well supplied with summer fruit of excellent quality.

BUTTER GRADING AT NEWCASTLE.

Recently a paragraph appeared in a Newcastle newspaper stating that the Government butter men complain of certain brands of butter being rejected by the local officer as unsatisfactory. The Minister of Agriculture desires to point out that this work is done entirely in one instance in the Newcastle district. Reports have been received from the Newcastle district showing appreciation of the improvement of the quality of butter now placed on the local market. It may also be well to point out that Mr. Wigan, the district dairy instructor, has made a representative selection both in cream and butter grading, and knows very thoroughly the quality of the butter. It is a pleasure to see the quality of the butter so well.

less than is 6d per bushel, country railway stations. Mr. Browning remarks that it is incomprehensible that an intelligent body of men should pass such a motion. He fully concurs in what Mr. Browning says. Cannot these farmers see that they are placing a weapon in the hands of the Wheat Board which may be used for their own destruction? The action of these farmers is almost as foolish as the proposal, made by the Melbourne Conference, that the Commonwealth Government should take over the balance of the crop at cost of production, a proposal which was made without any anxiety from the farmers whose property they were so lightly disposing of. No section of the community has done its bit towards the prosecution of the war more readily and willingly than the farming community. It has given freely both in men and money and will continue to do so. No section of the community has suffered to the same extent, commercially, as the land and the farmer. They have had its means of livelihood taken absolutely out of its control, and had no business, but more prejudiced by bad management. We understand (we can get no straightforward statements) that 4s 6d. was the price to be paid for 500,000 tons of wheat sold to the Imperial Government recently. Shortly after that the price fell to 3s 6d. for the same wheat had been sold in London at 7s 6d. per quarter, or 3s 6d. per bushel. The party here are expected to lose about £100,000 on the wheat. On this deal the Australian wheat farmers lost one million eight hundred and forty thousand pounds.

A VALUABLE COW.

TWENTY-SIX QUARTS DAILY.

MORNING TEST, 6.1.

To be seen in a paddock quite close to Strathfield Station is a Jersey cow many people who know the animal and competent to express opinions claim to be a record-bearer. She is a pure-bred Jersey, the property of Mr. L. Carter, who lives at Strathfield. She has given up to 26 quarts of milk daily, on practically grass feed, and is a very good milkmaid. She is remarkably free from blemish. Mr. Carter, although possessing good knowledge of dairy stock, gained due credit for his cow. He is a native of the district, of which he is a native, never in the trouble to have the milk submitted to a reliable test. He knew in his very rich cream, and he was perfectly satisfied. Other people who knew the capabilities of the animal desired to have some idea of the richness of the milk. "A sample was accordingly handed over to a chemist, who claimed to have a knowledge of milk testing, and his opinion was that it tested it. The owner of the cow was not surprised when he learned something new, but the opinion that the milk should have reached that particularly high standard, he has often shirked a pound of cream from a gallon of milk.

The writer submitted some of a moral to the Government Dairy Expert, an analysis, and Mr. O'Callaghan gave the analysis as 6.1. This particularly high figure prompted Mr. O'Callaghan to ask the writer to arrange with the owner to make a conclusive test, covering 24 hours, made in future. The animal had been milked and had tested as high as 10, and was of opinion that if it proper test were made, something new that percentage would be reached. The owner was approached, but was not agreeable to the test being made. He was aware of the fact that the animal, which he had often shirked a pound of cream from a gallon of milk, and was of opinion that if it proper test were made, something new that percentage would be reached. WAR NOTES.

ROMANIA'S SEVERE TEST.
The bold Austro-German move in the Jiu Valley, which resulted in the cutting of the main railway and the capture of the town of Craiova, has developed still further. According to the news received during the past day or two, what at first had the appearance of an extraordinary local success in the plans of the invaders, has now become a more and more important piece of strategy. It is not improbable that this move in Western Wallachia represents a complete change in the plans of the Austro-Germans. Whether this change of plan has anything to do with the rumored appointment of Mackensen to the command of the operations against Romania, or whether it represents an admission on the part of Falkenhayn that the Romanian resistance in the Alt and Pruth valleys was too great to permit of an advance. They have no idea. Our main concern is that the enemy's alternative plan has met with remarkable initial success, and although his task may become increasingly difficult, it is not denied that a big slice of territory has been secured, as well as several towns and many miles of Romanian railways. Amongst these towns are Craiova and Tulcea. Craiova, which is situated on the Danube, was taken on November 24. It is a city of 100,000 inhabitants, and is one of the most important of the Iron Gates. The Danube, between here and the sea.

OBJECT OF THE NEW MOVE.
In the earlier operations Falkenhayn's aim was to secure the Romanian railways and force his way down the Pruth and Jiu valleys, which contained the shortest route to the east, and the heart of Romania. After securing the passes he encountered a most stubborn resistance on the Romanian side of the Transylvanian Alps. His advance was held up by many weeks, and all attempts to link up his front between these two valleys were frustrated. It was at this stage that a new move appears to have been decided upon, and the Austro-Germans have now turned their backs to the east, and are making every preparation to make an advance on the Danube. The move is a bold one, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side. The Austro-Germans are now in a position to make an advance on the Danube, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side.

ACROSS THE DANUBE.
We previously drew attention to this move in the bold nature of the enemy's advance in Western Wallachia. The move is a bold one, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side. The Austro-Germans are now in a position to make an advance on the Danube, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side.

POSITION IN THE ALT VALLEY.
While the German commander claims that his troops moved on from Craiova, he has crossed the Lower Alt, the Russian message shows that the Romanians farther north along this valley have been forced back. They are now about 9 miles below the point where we last saw the German advance, and a similar distance north of Rimnik, which is one of the most important towns on the railway in this region. If the Romanians are to retain the control of this section, it is an important role in future operations, as a few of the most useful mountain roads branch away from the coast and west at this point. These roads are of great importance, and it is not surprising that the German commander is so anxious to secure them. The German commander is so anxious to secure them, and it is not surprising that the German commander is so anxious to secure them.

TAURUS MOUNTAINS PIERCED.
The announcement that the Germans have pierced the Taurus Mountains is a most important one. It is a bold move, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side. The Austro-Germans are now in a position to make an advance on the Danube, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side.

COAL STRIKE.

CABINET TO MEET TO-DAY.

CONFERENCE TO RESUME.

The compulsory conference between representatives of the mineowners and the Employees' Association will resume its deliberations to-day.
The Federal Cabinet will meet this morning before the conference opens to decide the Federal Government's policy. Meetings were addressed in the Domain yesterday by miners' representatives from the northern and southern districts.

Determination was expressed to continue the fight until victory had been achieved. The Federal Cabinet will meet this morning before the conference opens to decide the Federal Government's policy. Meetings were addressed in the Domain yesterday by miners' representatives from the northern and southern districts.

The curtailment of the suburban railway service was yesterday responsible for much inconvenience and discomfort to passengers. The churches were allowed to use gas at their evening services. The embargo against using gas for household purposes between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. meant that in most homes Sunday's dinner was a cold one.

FEDERAL CABINET.

TO-DAY'S MEETING.

The meeting of the Federal Cabinet, which was to have been held on Saturday morning to consider the position created by the failure of the conference which sat on Friday to arrive at a settlement of the coal strike, did not take place. The Prime Minister (Mr. Hughes) did not come into his office. Senator Pearce, the next senior Minister, however, came to the office to consult Mr. Hughes at his home, and spent a long time with him discussing the position.

The Cabinet is to meet to-morrow morning, and when the conference resumes at half-past 10 o'clock Mr. Hughes will be in a position to announce the Ministry's policy regarding the strike. At present that policy can only be conjectured, but the disclosure on Saturday of the fact that the miners have already received an increase of 50 per cent. in their wages as soon as the strike is over, makes it seem probable that the Government will take action under the War Regulations to compel the mineowners to accept the miners' demands.

NEWCASTLE.

DISAPPOINTMENT WAS EXPRESSED HERE AT THE FRUITLESS RESULT OF FRIDAY'S CONFERENCE IN MELBOURNE.

Disappointment was expressed here at the fruitless result of Friday's conference in Melbourne, but the hope was expressed that a settlement would be arrived at on Monday. It is believed in some quarters that if the Government will not insist on its demand for a 10 per cent. increase in wages, the strike will be averted.

The Government is causing uneasiness to the city council in connection with the lighting of the city and suburbs. The city council has issued a warning that a stoppage of work in the factories of Newcastle is a most serious one, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side.

THE FERRIES.

SERVICES FOR SLACK HOURS.

In connection with the strike dealing with the slacks, the Sydney Municipal Council has decided to reduce the hours of service of the ferries. The ferries will be running from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. The result is a most inconvenient position, and the ferries are packed with passengers.

RECRUITING.

STILL UNSATISFACTORY.

AT VICTORIA BARRACKS YESTERDAY 1000 OFFERS THEMSELVES FOR ENLISTMENT, AND 1000 MORE FOR THE NEXT DAY.

The recruiting figures for the past week show a steady increase in the number of men offering themselves for enlistment. The figures are a most important one, and it is not surprising that it has been met with a most determined resistance on the Romanian side.
